THE CRISIS.

Once in every man and woman, comes the moment to decide. It is the stage of right or wrong, for the life is being worked out, and the moment now is the right.

Some, for the right of a country, for the right of a race, for the right of a people. Then will stand.

They are the men from whom come noble ideals, the men who are fighting against our land. These men are the men from whom come noble ideals. They are the men of the world. They are the men who will stand.

And stand they will, not alone, but with Strength, afar.

Sure must arise the great Ancient-History.

To the Editor of The Church Record.

Dear Sir,

I would like to express my appreciation of the excellent work of the church in our community. The church has been a comfort and support in times of need and has provided a place of refuge for many people. I have been a regular attender at the church services and have found them to be very beneficial.

I would like to offer my support and encouragement to the church in its ongoing work.

Yours sincerely,

Church Missionary Society.

A highly important meeting of the Church Missionary Society was held on Tuesday last, when over 100 delegates from the church in the country, besides a large number of representatives from London, attended to discuss the Society's position and its prospects in the near future.
It has been disquieting to see a shrinking of the society's receipts, but this, so far as we are aware, is not due to any change in the society's organization or methods of work, but rather to the general economic crisis and the consequent reduction of income.

The society continues to work for the soldiers and sailors in the foreground, and to promote missionary work in the background.

The society has also been occupied with the welfare of its own supporters, including your great Commissioner, Mr. Asquith.

I was privileged to be present when the London Committee, holding its first meeting in the church, passed a resolution in favour of missionary work.

The latter was the more

The National Mission.

The National Mission of Repentance and Hope is being persevered with and extended in many parts of the world. The literature is far beyond any, possible at present, and the success of this is the case already, what it will be when the time is ripe we cannot tell. There can be none who have attended our services in the past years who will fail to remember the memorable moment of the past year, when we gathered in the church and heard the Word of God宣ounced with such power and eloquence that we were moved to tears. It was a moment of peculiar beauty, and we were brought to a realization of the importance of the work we are doing and the need of our support.

We trust that you will join with us in our efforts to carry on this work, and that you will make a pledge to support it in the future.

Yours sincerely,

The MEN OF THE CHURCH.

"Woke up, England!" was the text of a speech delivered by the late Edward King, the Duke of York, on the occasion of his arrival in Australia on July 11, 1916. Men of all nations, it was said, were waking up to their duty, and the time had come for the men of the Church to answer the call of the nation.

"We must rise up and do our part," he said, "and let no man say that the Church is asleep. We must not wait for others to do the work; we must do it ourselves. We must not wait for others to lead; we must lead ourselves.

Thoughts on the Church Seasons.

13th Sunday after Trinity (September 13).

The LAW AND THE GOSPEL.

The Epistle (Gal. iii, 16-22) is a pa-sage full of truths, but its general lesson is plain. It shows that there had been a law which could give life, even as the letter could be, but was not the law, but the law was not the life, but the letter's love was to be gotten by faith in Jesus, who was the Law.

The promise of God to Abraham was for himself only, and also for his seed. In the seed all the anccestors of the world, included.

The promise was made 400 years before the Law was promulgated, and the reason of the Law was to secure the promise for the people.

And now, in the apostle's mind, when serving Christ, the flesh will be finished: the flesh lusteth against the Spirit, and the Spirit against the flesh, these are conflicting desires, and the desire of the flesh is dead, and the spirit lives.
