1968 — LAST LAMBETH CONFERENCE?

I’M all parts of the Anglican Communion, people are asking — will there be another Lambeth Conference? The 1968 conference opens today in London, just 150 years after the first Lambeth, presided over by Archbishop Longley.

New Zealand’s Bishop of Dunedin, the Rev. Ralph E. Wicks, rector of St. Paul’s Cathedral, Dunedin, has been appointed Archdeacon of Moreton. Rev. W. C. Nagle, formerly curate of St. John’s, Nundah, Brisbane, has been appointed Archdeacon of Brisbane. Rev. C. E. Nagle, formerly curate of St. Matthew’s, Brisbane, has been elected Speaker of the Territorial Synod of the Diocese of Queensland.

...and other news from the dioceses.

LITTLE FEATS THAT MAKE A DIFFERENCE

...by Mrs. R. J. Martin, published by Anglicans Australia, P.O. Box 200, Canberra, $2.00.

This interesting collection of short addresses, commentaries and letters is well worth reading. It contains some very stimulating articles, says G. S. Clarke, a former Bishop of New Guinea and, now, a layman. Following his retirement, he has found that the sight of a just, honest, hardworking person is a great inspiration.

NEW S.A. DIOCESE PREMATURE

The proposal of the Adelaide diocese for the consecration of the Bishop of St. George was premature. The request should have been made later, when the diocese was better prepared. The proposal was made in 1967, but the Adelaide diocese was not ready at that time. The diocese should have been more mature before the proposal was made.

...and other articles by Rev. J. E. W. R. Smith, Rev. C. E. Nagle.

FREE-KINDLING Assembly of Melbourne

...a good example of what can be done to help the watts lives of young people. The Assembly of Melbourne is a non-denominational youth group that offers counselling, support, and a sense of belonging to young people who are facing difficult situations.

...and other articles by G. S. Clarke, Rev. J. E. W. R. Smith, Rev. C. E. Nagle.

NEW YEAR’S RESOLUTIONS

...a guide to the new year’s resolutions. It provides suggestions for resolutions that are realistic, achievable, and beneficial to the individual.

...and other articles by G. S. Clarke, Rev. J. E. W. R. Smith, Rev. C. E. Nagle.

SHORT NOTICES

...notices of appointments, resignations, deaths, and other events of interest to the Anglican community.

WHAT'S A PARISH FOR?

By The Reverend Lance R. Shilton, Rector of Holy Trinity Church, Adelaide.

The Church's mission is to make known the Gospel of Jesus Christ and the Good News of His Kingdom. This involves evangelism, discipleship, and service to those in need. The church should be a community that loves and serves one another, reaching out to those who do not know Jesus Christ. The church is a place where people can come to know and follow Jesus, grow in their faith, and serve others in the name of Jesus.

C.M.S. BUDGET RECEIVED

For the first time for many years, the C.M.S. branch of C.M.S. has received a budget for the year ending June 30, 1968. This budget includes $238,000 and has a surplus of $5500.

SEARCHING, BUT UNSATISFIED

The writer of this article, Mr David Claydon, is a member of Church, a General Assembly of the Church, and a General Secretary of the Church. In N.S.W., and is L.S.C.F. in N.S.W.

Mr Claydon is a graduate of Sydney University. Last year he was awarded a Master of Divinity (M.Div.) degree by the University of Southern Queensland. The university selected Mr Claydon to undertake a research project through the Australian Presbyterian Missionary Society, the United States, and the World Council of Churches. The project aimed to study various contributions that could be made to help young people to find a satisfactory identity in Christ. In this article, Mr Claydon looks at the situation of young people today, and how the church can help them.

There are many teenagers in a variety of ways. For some there is a search for identity, a quest for personal identity and a desire to belong. For others there is a search for self, a desire to be known for who they are. For some there is a search for satisfaction, a desire to find fulfillment in life. For others there is a search for answers, a quest to understand the world around them.

CRAZE SPREADS

From the point of view of the younger generation, gambling in any form is a very attractive form of entertainment. New Zealand has already taken steps to legalise gambling, and the Territorial Board has been given power to regulate lotteries. The new law will allow the Territorial Board to issue licences for the operation of lotteries. The Board has the power to regulate the operation of lotteries and to ensure that they are conducted in a fair and transparent manner. The new law will also allow the Territorial Board to issue licences for the operation of gambling machines, such as slot machines and poker machines.

CERTAIN RATIONALE

The rationale behind the new law is to ensure that gambling is conducted in a fair and transparent manner. The new law will also ensure that gambling is not a source of social harm. The Territorial Board will have the power to regulate the operation of lotteries and to ensure that they are conducted in a fair and transparent manner. SHE CONTEMPLATES SUICIDE

The woman who attempted suicide was a member of the Church of England. She had been a member of the Church for many years and had been involved in various charitable and community activities. However, in recent months she had been suffering from depression and had been feeling hopeless. She had been considering suicide for some time and had finally decided to act.

She contemplated suicide in a most wonderful manner. She had thought about it carefully and had decided that it was the only way to end her suffering. She had written a letter to her husband and had left it with him. She had also written a letter to her children and had left it with them. She had also written a letter to the Church of England and had left it with them.

FISSTECK MOTION

Close observer in Catherine's Church, Sydney, says: "The Book of Common Prayer requires the possession of valid patents for those baptized in this faith. It is not for the Bishop of Sydney or any other Bishop to assume that a person is a Christian without meeting the requirements laid down in the Book of Common Prayer." Dr. A. W. Martin, of the Sydney Anglican Church, has written to the Bishop of Sydney and the Bishop of Bathurst in protest against the ordination of a man who was not a Christian as defined by the Book of Common Prayer.

PASTORAL MEASURE 1968

The pastoral measure, which takes effect on May 30, is the longest and most complex measure to be approved in Australia for a decade. It replaces a large number of regulations, and provides a comprehensive system of pastoral reorganization.

Part I sets out the provisions for the reorganization of parishes and districts. The new system is based on the diocesan authorities, the parishes, and the deaneries.

Part II sets out the provisions for the reorganization of clergy. Clergy can now be appointed by the diocesan authorities, the parishes, and the deaneries.

It is made possible for a vicar to be appointed to a parish, whether or not he is found to be in a suitable position for the pastoral care of a parish.

In conclusion, it is hoped that these new measures will be welcomed by the clergy and the people of the diocese.

ANARCHIST RETURNS

Archbishop R. W. H. Moller, a former Archbishop of Perth, recently returned to Western Australia for a limited period of time. He is expected to return to his duties in the near future.

The Archbishop was appointed to the see of Western Australia in 1963, and has been in the diocese ever since.

The Archbishop has been invited to speak at a number of conferences and seminars in the diocese, and is expected to make a number of public appearances.
