1976

The Australian Church Record 1976

Australian Church Record

https://myrrh.library.moore.edu.au:443/handle/10248/8562

Downloaded from Myrrh, the Moore College Institutional Repository
HMS ADMINISTRATION DIRECTOR

In a remarkable move which in the reorganisation of the Anglican Church in Australia in New South Wales, the Rev. Dr. F. B. Hambly, who has been appointed to the position of Director of Administration in the Diocese of Newcastle, comes to his early retirement, is office prosecutor and registrar of the Diocesan Administration. Dr. Hambly has been in the church for over 30 years, having served in various capacities, including as registrar of the Diocese of Newcastle. He is succeeded by the Rev. Dr. F. B. Hambly, who has been appointed to the position of Director of Administration in the Diocese of Newcastle.

ALL SOUL'S GOES 'UNDERGROUND'

The address was given by the Rev. Dr. R. C. Keogh, who is the Dean of the Diocese of Sydney. The address was given at the Scarr Family Reunion, held at the St. John's Church of England in Sydney. The address was given by the Rev. Dr. R. C. Keogh, who is the Dean of the Diocese of Sydney. The address was given at the Scarr Family Reunion, held at the St. John's Church of England in Sydney.

GOVERNOR AT 100TH ANNIVERSARY

The Governor of NSW, Sir Robert Calvert, joined with members of the Anglican Community at Dubbo, NSW, in celebrating the centenary of the East Anglian Church on March 21, the Dublin "Liber" reported.

The historic church was built in 1842, and was one of the oldest churches in the Diocese of Sydney. It is located on the corner of Castlereagh St. Sydney, NSW. 2000

Retirement soon of Administrator of the St. Paul's Church of England in Sydney, NSW. 2000

The church was built in 1821, and is one of the oldest churches in the Diocese of Sydney. It is located on the corner of Castlereagh St. Sydney, NSW. 2000

COUNCIL APPROVES YOUTH BOATSHED

The council is now looking for a new location for the boatshed. The council has approved the construction of a new boatshed at the St. John's Church of England, located on the corner of Castlereagh St. Sydney, NSW. 2000

BIG SAVING FOR NEW SUBSCRIBERS ONLY

Send only $2 and we will send you post free the next ten issues of the Australian Church Record.

ST. PAUL'S TAWMOURH CELEBRATES CENTENARY

Almost 1900 worshippers packed into St. Paul's Church, Tawmourn, for the church's 100th anniversary service. The event was attended by many local dignitaries, including the Rev. Dr. R. C. Keogh, who is the Dean of the Diocese of Sydney. The service was led by the Rev. Dr. R. C. Keogh, who is the Dean of the Diocese of Sydney. The service was led by the Rev. Dr. R. C. Keogh, who is the Dean of the Diocese of Sydney.

ASSURANCE BY WRAN

The Premier of NSW, Mr Neville Wran, assured the NSW Council of Churches that there would be no wave of permissive legislation under a Labor Government.

He gave this assurance at a meeting with the council on April 27.

On Sunday trading, he said he would not promote Sunday trading in any form in the State in the future.

Mr Wran said the assurance was extended to other areas.
Governor at issue with American evangelist

The Governor of South Australia, Sir Mark Oliphant, has already expressed regret at entering the arena of public controversy over the issue of his refusal to meet an American evangelist. As a representative of the Crown he should be accessible to all who represent legitimate community interests. As a representative of the Crown he should be accessible to all who represent legitimate community interests. As a representative of the Crown he should be accessible to all who represent legitimate community interests.

Prior to the American withdrawal and the collapse of the South Vietnamese regime, Sir Mark Oliphant was Governor of South Australia. He is a member of the senior Cabinet, and has the responsibility for overseas affairs in the Commonwealth. His letter to the American ambassador stated that he would not meet the American evangelist, Dr Haggai, because he did not consider the evangelist's message of Christianity and salvation appropriate for the Australian public. Sir Mark Oliphant's decision has caused controversy in South Australia, particularly as it has been expressed by the South Australian Premier, Sir Mark Jenkins, who has accused Sir Mark Oliphant of not being accessible to all who represent legitimate community interests.

archbishop Sir Marcus Loane

SYDNEY DIOCESE'S REPORT ON INQUIRY

SIR MARCUS LOANE: "POVERTY — is money the answer?"

The Anglican Archbishop of Sydney, Sir Marcus Loane, has released a commentary by the Diocese on social aspects of the First Main Report of the Commonwealth Commission of Inquiry into Poverty, chaired by Professor Ronald Henderson.

In releasing the document, Archbishop Loane said: "Poverty in Australia will not be removed by the stroke of a pen. Nor will an injection of more money solve all its problems. "Poverty has its roots in the unacceptable disadvantages and prejudices, and in the attitudes of the relatively affluent who blame the poor for mismanagement of their affairs. "I have agreed to the publication of this document in the hope that it will contribute to public discussion. It does not pretend to have the answers."

The document was written by the Rev Alan Nicholas and Mr Peter Trew, Research Officer, Sydney Diocesan Vicar, Archdeacon of Sydney, Peter Helfpug, Research Officer, Archdeacon of Sydney, Peter Helfpug, Research Officer, and Dr John Ellicott, Research Officer. It is a joint publication of the Diocese of Sydney and the Sydney Diocesan Board of Social Services.

In the document's introduction, Archbishop Loane said: "Poverty in Australia will not be removed by the stroke of a pen. Nor will an injection of more money solve all its problems. "Poverty has its roots in the unacceptable disadvantages and prejudices, and in the attitudes of the relatively affluent who blame the poor for mismanagement of their affairs. "I have agreed to the publication of this document in the hope that it will contribute to public discussion. It does not pretend to have the answers."

The document was written by the Rev Alan Nicholas and Mr Peter Trew, Research Officer, Sydney Diocesan Vicar, Archdeacon of Sydney, Peter Helfpug, Research Officer, Archdeacon of Sydney, Peter Helfpug, Research Officer, and Dr John Ellicott, Research Officer. It is a joint publication of the Diocese of Sydney and the Sydney Diocesan Board of Social Services.

In the document's introduction, Archbishop Loane said: "Poverty in Australia will not be removed by the stroke of a pen. Nor will an injection of more money solve all its problems. "Poverty has its roots in the unacceptable disadvantages and prejudices, and in the attitudes of the relatively affluent who blame the poor for mismanagement of their affairs. "I have agreed to the publication of this document in the hope that it will contribute to public discussion. It does not pretend to have the answers."

The document was written by the Rev Alan Nicholas and Mr Peter Trew, Research Officer, Sydney Diocesan Vicar, Archdeacon of Sydney, Peter Helfpug, Research Officer, Archdeacon of Sydney, Peter Helfpug, Research Officer, and Dr John Ellicott, Research Officer. It is a joint publication of the Diocese of Sydney and the Sydney Diocesan Board of Social Services.

In the document's introduction, Archbishop Loane said: "Poverty in Australia will not be removed by the stroke of a pen. Nor will an injection of more money solve all its problems. "Poverty has its roots in the unacceptable disadvantages and prejudices, and in the attitudes of the relatively affluent who blame the poor for mismanagement of their affairs. "I have agreed to the publication of this document in the hope that it will contribute to public discussion. It does not pretend to have the answers."

The document was written by the Rev Alan Nicholas and Mr Peter Trew, Research Officer, Sydney Diocesan Vicar, Archdeacon of Sydney, Peter Helfpug, Research Officer, Archdeacon of Sydney, Peter Helfpug, Research Officer, and Dr John Ellicott, Research Officer. It is a joint publication of the Diocese of Sydney and the Sydney Diocesan Board of Social Services.

In the document's introduction, Archbishop Loane said: "Poverty in Australia will not be removed by the stroke of a pen. Nor will an injection of more money solve all its problems. "Poverty has its roots in the unacceptable disadvantages and prejudices, and in the attitudes of the relatively affluent who blame the poor for mismanagement of their affairs. "I have agreed to the publication of this document in the hope that it will contribute to public discussion. It does not pretend to have the answers."

The document was written by the Rev Alan Nicholas and Mr Peter Trew, Research Officer, Sydney Diocesan Vicar, Archdeacon of Sydney, Peter Helfpug, Research Officer, Archdeacon of Sydney, Peter Helfpug, Research Officer, and Dr John Ellicott, Research Officer. It is a joint publication of the Diocese of Sydney and the Sydney Diocesan Board of Social Services.

In the document's introduction, Archbishop Loane said: "Poverty in Australia will not be removed by the stroke of a pen. Nor will an injection of more money solve all its problems. "Poverty has its roots in the unacceptable disadvantages and prejudices, and in the attitudes of the relatively affluent who blame the poor for mismanagement of their affairs. "I have agreed to the publication of this document in the hope that it will contribute to public discussion. It does not pretend to have the answers."

The document was written by the Rev Alan Nicholas and Mr Peter Trew, Research Officer, Sydney Diocesan Vicar, Archdeacon of Sydney, Peter Helfpug, Research Officer, Archdeacon of Sydney, Peter Helfpug, Research Officer, and Dr John Ellicott, Research Officer. It is a joint publication of the Diocese of Sydney and the Sydney Diocesan Board of Social Services.

In the document's introduction, Archbishop Loane said: "Poverty in Australia will not be removed by the stroke of a pen. Nor will an injection of more money solve all its problems. "Poverty has its roots in the unacceptable disadvantages and prejudices, and in the attitudes of the relatively affluent who blame the poor for mismanagement of their affairs. "I have agreed to the publication of this document in the hope that it will contribute to public discussion. It does not pretend to have the answers."

The document was written by the Rev Alan Nicholas and Mr Peter Trew, Research Officer, Sydney Diocesan Vicar, Archdeacon of Sydney, Peter Helfpug, Research Officer, Archdeacon of Sydney, Peter Helfpug, Research Officer, and Dr John Ellicott, Research Officer. It is a joint publication of the Diocese of Sydney and the Sydney Diocesan Board of Social Services.

In the document's introduction, Archbishop Loane said: "Poverty in Australia will not be removed by the stroke of a pen. Nor will an injection of more money solve all its problems. "Poverty has its roots in the unacceptable disadvantages and prejudices, and in the attitudes of the relatively affluent who blame the poor for mismanagement of their affairs. "I have agreed to the publication of this document in the hope that it will contribute to public discussion. It does not pretend to have the answers."

The document was written by the Rev Alan Nicholas and Mr Peter Trew, Research Officer, Sydney Diocesan Vicar, Archdeacon of Sydney, Peter Helfpug, Research Officer, Archdeacon of Sydney, Peter Helfpug, Research Officer, and Dr John Ellicott, Research Officer. It is a joint publication of the Diocese of Sydney and the Sydney Diocesan Board of Social Services.
Letters

Not every way correct that seemeth right

Visit by Dr Coggan

Issue of aboriginal land rights

Admission of children to Holy Communion

a little language goes a long way

WHAT IS RELIGION?

ON and off the record

Christianity: 'Brainwashed or born again?'

NEW FIELD SECRETARY FOR BIBLE SOCIETY

How to get your money's worth.

Letters

Not every way correct that seemeth right

Visit by Dr Coggan

Issue of aboriginal land rights

Admission of children to Holy Communion

a little language goes a long way

WHAT IS RELIGION?

ON and off the record

Christianity: 'Brainwashed or born again?'

NEW FIELD SECRETARY FOR BIBLE SOCIETY

How to get your money's worth.
A $137,576 appeal programme to help repair and rebuild 21 schools in the province of Guatemala has been launched by World Vision International.

The Christian humanitarian agency said it had received a request from the Guatemalan government for support to rebuild 21 schools destroyed by a 7.6 magnitude earthquake in December last year.

The schools are used by 10,000 primary school children, and the appeal was launched last week by World Vision's national co-ordinator, the Rev Fred Nile, said the programme was aimed at providing aid to the community.

During the two-month appeal, which is to last until August, World Vision will help to rebuild the 21 schools, which will be used by 10,000 children.

Mr Nile said: "We have been working with the government to support the rebuilding of the schools, and this appeal is helping to meet that need."
Christians in politics

An alid seminar has been organised by the Graduate Fellowship (N.S.W.) on the theme "Politics and Christ, the Church and the Kingdom of God". The seminar will be held on Saturday, May 30, at the University of Sydney. For further information, contact Dr. Peter Bennett, 13 Mequin Street, Sydney, NSW. 2000.

Rev Hugh Craft, THL, the Reverend and Professor of Christian Ethics at the University of Sydney, has written a new book entitled "Ethical Issues in Contemporary Society". The book is the first of its kind to be published in Australia and is based on the teachings of the Bible. Professor Craft has been a noted scholar in the field of ethics and is widely respected for his work in this area.

Rev H. F. H. Shand, the Bishop of the Anglican Church in New Zealand, has been appointed as the chairman of the new Council of Churches in New Zealand. The Council will be responsible for representing the interests of all the churches in New Zealand and for promoting Christian unity.

The Australian church and state

The Australian church and state have a long and complex history. The church has been involved in politics and state affairs since the early days of the country. In recent years, there has been a growing tension between the church and the state, particularly over issues such as abortion, same-sex marriage, and the role of the church in public life.

In his recent book, "The Australian Church and State: A History of Conflict and Compromise", historian Dr John McCardy examines the relationship between the church and the state in Australia from the time of the first settlements to the present day. McCardy argues that the church has been a powerful force in Australian politics and that its influence has often been used to promote conservative values and policies.

Despite this, there have been many instances where the church and the state have worked together to achieve common goals. For example, during World War II, the church played a key role in organizing relief efforts and in providing support to soldiers and their families.

In recent years, there has been a growing trend towards secularization in Australia, with younger generations becoming less engaged with religious institutions. This has led to some concerns about the future of the church in the country.

Despite these challenges, the church remains an important institution in Australian society. It continues to play a role in shaping social values and values, and it remains a source of comfort and support for many Australians. Whether you are religious or not, the church is an integral part of our country's history and culture.